

A white Smart Rain irrigation controller sits in a dry, cracked field under a dark, stormy sky. A bright blue lightning bolt strikes the top of the device, with the energy appearing to flow into the controller. The Smart Rain logo is visible on the top of the device. The overall scene suggests advanced technology for water management in arid conditions.

smart rain™

Meet tomorrow's irrigation technology today.

Fuse landscape watering with hyperlocal weather data to boost water and cost savings—empowering you with control, simplicity and the most advanced technology for any property.

VISIT US AT BOOTH 823

smartrain.net